Astronomical dial

The image shows the famous Prague Astronomical Clock at the Old Town Hall. The central focus is a large stone statue of St. John the Baptist, who is depicted with a long white beard and a halo, holding a scroll in one hand and a cross in the other. Above him, a golden eagle sits atop a small structure. On either side of St. John are two smaller stone statues of saints, each with a halo; the saint on the left holds a book and a staff, while the saint on the right holds a book and a cross. Below the main figures, there is a decorative metal railing featuring stylized animal heads. In the foreground, the circular clock face is visible, showing the numbers 16, 18, and 10, along with letters A, B, C, D, and E, which likely represent the hours of the day.

Czech Beer Festival Prague 2013

Welcome to the 6th Czech Beer Fest!

For 17 days (from May 16th to June 1st, 2013), we have prepared a selection of the best from Czech breweries, Czech chefs, butchers and bakers for you.

You'll have the chance to taste more than 70 brands of Czech beer, always in top quality in glass pitchers.

200 girls and boys in Czech national costumes will be your servers.

You'll live through an unrepeatable atmosphere in the largest beer tent in the Czech Republic with a total seating capacity of 10,000.

Specialties of top chefs of famous Czech restaurants and catering companies Vyšehrad 2000 Catering and Fastgood.

Live music every day and weekend afterparties until the morning.

The festival has its own special currency, the so called beer Tolar. It helps to speed up the payment process and, thus, the service provided to you.

Czech Beer Festival Prague 2013 is an ideal place for corporation and teambuilding events, social parties or class reunions.

Come to have fun, eat, drink or meet others.

Come to have a beer!

A black and white photograph of a woman from the chest up. She has dark, wavy hair and is wearing a dark, wide-brimmed bowler hat. She is dressed in a dark, textured coat over a light-colored collared shirt. Her gaze is directed towards the right side of the frame, and she has a subtle, knowing smile.
